THE PARK BANK ROBBERY. Edward Harnatch, who was arrested in the taw office of Wm. L. Gill, No. 365 Fulton-st., Brooklyn, on Baturday last, on suspicion of having stolen Waliabout Bay Improvement Bonds in his possession, was brought before Justice Walsh yesterday afternoon, for examination. The accused offered six bonds for sale ($1,000 each), of which five were identified as having been stolen from the Park Savings Bank, Fulchonave, on the 7th of February last. The total value of all the bonds stolen at that time was $15,000. Messrs, C.B. Le Baron, Samuel V. French, and Reuben S. Ross, fr., brokers in New-York, under arrest on the charge of having some of the stolen bonds in their possession, were present, and represented by counsel. Harnatch was represented by ex-Judge H. A. Moore, and The Peopie by District-Attorney Morris, Richard Olmsted, President of the Park Savings Bank, testified that the Bank had on deposit, in February last, a large number of Wallabout Bay Improvement Bonds, and identified Nos. 261, 282, 253, 254, and 301 (representing H.,000 each), as having been stolen on the 7th of the above month. Witness could not identify bond No. 409 (exhibited). The coupons attached were payable half-yearly; $4,000 of the bonds were purchased from Thos. H. Faron, City Controller, on the 31st of August, 1888; and one bond (No. 301) from Evan M. Johnson, Controller, on the 17th of February, 1850. Charies Newman, of No. 170 Eddridge-st., New-York, testified that he boarded in the same house with Harnatch; that he came to witness's store, No. 435 Broadway, on before Justice Walsh yesterday afternoon, for examina-Thos. H. Faron, City Controller, on the Sist of August, 1892; and one bond (No. 301) from Evan M. Johnson, Controller, on the 17th of February, 1860. Charies Newman, of No. 170 Editidge-st., New York, testified that he barded in the same house with Harnatch; that he came to witness's store, No. 432 Broadway, on Thursday evening last, and in answer to the question as to what he was doing, said that he had been out selling bonds; that he had from £9,000 to £90,000 worth; showed witness one of them; Harnatch was in the employ of Mr. Le Baron, bertier, No. 59 Pine-st. Wm. L. Gill testined that Harnatch called at his office, No. 35 Fulion-st., on Saturday with the bonds (exhibited) and endeavored to sell them; in answer to some questions he said they belonged to Frederick Frincke, No. 31 Bivington-st.; that Frincke wanted about 56,000 to go into business with and had offered to sell them at about par, he offered them at secents on going to his office about one on Saturday without the witness's room, where Mr. French introduced him to Bedward Harnatch, telling him that he was the young gentleman who had the bonds for sale; examined the bonds after the introduction; accused said he was selling them on commission, as a broker; that he lived at Elizabeth, New-Jersey, part of the time, and had a room at No. 170 Eldridge-st., New-York; asked him to write the name of Frank Satherland, No. 218 Adelphia-st; he also gave the name of C. B. Le Baron, banker, No. 25 John-st., New-York. He then wrote his own name and address. Witness sent for Mr. Wm. C. Kingsley, Vice-President of the Park Savings Bank, who identified five of the bonds as having been stolen from the Bank, and capsed defendant's arrest. Thomas H. Faron testified to seeing bond No. 309 in the Herald Buildings, New-York, after the bank robbery in Pebraary. The man with had siz,000 of the Wallabout Bay Improvement bonds which he wanted to sell; do not buy any. George A. Latourette sworn.—[This witness was confined in the cell, in pill with Harmatch, under the name of

THE OCEAN BANK ROBBERY. The interest of the public in the Ocean Bank robbery is unabated. Experts concede it to be one of the most daring robberies ever perpetrated in this country. The manner in which the work was done proves it to have been by one of the most skillful gangs of professional burglars in the United States or Canada, and they must have had among them one or more peculiarly skilled mechanics to complete the job in such a comparatively short time. Yesicrday morning. Mr. D. R. Martin, President of the Bank, and some of the other officers called on Superintendent Kennedy, and requested his advice with reference to the course to be pursued, more especially as to the amount of reward to be offered for the return of the securities stolen or the capture of the thieves. Mr. Kennedy suggested to waiththe course of events, that nothing was to be made by undue haste, and counseled offering a fair reward for the return of the negotiable bonds. The reward would have the effect of keeping the brokers on the lockout and would render it doubly difficult for the thievesor their confederates to negotiate the bonds. In the meantime the detectives are at work noting the actions of the various professional burglars in this vicinity, and receiving advices from the police of other cities of the movements of their professionals. It is not believed that the theives will attempt to negotiate any of the stolen bonds or securities for some time, for the reason that they secured sufficient Treasury and National Bank notes to last them some months, even with their extravagant habits. The gangs of professional burglars in the United States bonds of securities for some time, for the reason that they secured sufficient Treasury and National Bank notes to last them some months, even with their extravagant habits. The amount stolen has not been accurately ascertained, but it will reach very nearly half a million dollars, and nearly operable for this large amount consisted of hills and non-registered United States honds. Capt. John S. Young, tate captain of the detective force at Police Headquarters, has received from the owners authority to negotiate with the burglars for the return of $100,000 worth of United States securities. The miscellaneous securities, among which see $100,000 worth of the bonds of the Portage

Lake and Lake Superior Canal Company, will probably be returned to the owners on the payment of a small per centage as a reward. From all that can be ascertained, it is more than probable that the thieves will realize from $150,000 to $200,000 by their desperate venture.

Whereas, The President of this Company, Mr. James W. Barker, has suddenly been called from the scenes and activities of this life to meet the realities of a future state of existence, and has left behind an honerable memory or, liberality to religious enterprises, and diligence

Resolved, That we, his fellow-Directors of the Eclectic

Resolved. That we, his fellow-Directors of the Eclectic Life Insurance Company, take this occasion to bear our testimony to his many excellencies of character, his invariable courtesy of deportment, and his efficiency and manimess in every place of trust.

Resolved, That in this dispensation we have lost an associate when he was invaluable to us, a friend who had endeared himself to us, and a citizen who had identified himself with the best interests of the community.

Resolved, That we believe our loss to be his gain; and while we regret and deplore that he has been removed from us in the midst of his usefulness, we rejoice that we can bear testimony to our confidence that he has been called to more enduring honor.

Resolved, That the Directors of this Company be requested to attend his funeral; and that a copy of these resolutions, duly engrossed and verified, be communicated to the family.

TERRIBLE CRUELTY TO ANIMALS. The Common Council of Newark lately au-horized the appointment of Meat Inspectors, whose du ties were defined to be the inspection of meat offered for ties were defined to be the inspection of male darked. Yessale, and also of animals about to be slaughtered. Yesterday. Mr. W. S. Ovlatt, one of the Inspectors recently appointed, visited a stock train at the Morris and Essex depot, and, in walking past the cars, an offensive smell issued from a close box-car. The car was ordered to be opened, when the cause of the disagreeable odor was discovered.

The car was literally nacked with the bodies of dead anwhen the cause of the disagreeable ofor was discovered. The car was literally packed with the hodies of dead animals that had been brought to Newark living, for slaughter and sale. Twenty-one sheep, 20 lambs, and 13 calves were lying upon the single floor of the small air-tight car. No other animals than these were in the car. The employes of the company at the depot, in response to inquiries stated that the sheep and calves had been "chucked in" and the doors fastened up, at Hackettstown on the night preceding, and that no further attention was given to the car after it was first closed. The car-load was consigned to J. Anthony and W. Kissinger of Newark. Adderman Westervelt, the President of the Board of Health, was informed, and the carcasses were immediately removed from the car. It is understood that the employes of the Company who placed the animals in the car will be arrested.

SUICIDE OF A BREWER IN NEWARK

Herman Kolb, the son and partner of Charles Kolb, a well-known brewer in Newark, was found dead upon his bed at a late hour in the morning of yesterday, which occurred on Saturday afternoon, at Newark, resumed its sitting yesterday. The inquest was adjourned on Sunday, for the purpose of securing the testimony of experts who would, it was expected, be able to give such testimony as would enable the jury to form an accurate opinion regarding the cause of the calamity. Several witnesses were examined, among whom were William Craig, a former State Boiler Inspector: James H. Martin, a brother-in-law of the deceased; Wm. H. Inslee, draughtsman of Hewes & Phillips, the proprietors of the yacht; Peter Romaine, father of the deceased; Jared S. Bobins, Wm. J. Tinney, by whom the body was recovered, and Dr. Dodd, the County physician. The testimony of the greater number of the witnesses concerned only the circumstances of the explosion and of the finding of the body, but the experts testified that there was a defect in the boiler-plate, which might have caused the explosion, and that so far as could be judged the defect could not with ordinary attention be discovered so as to be remedied. The jury returned the following verdict: "That the said Theodore Romaine came to his death by the breaking of the steam chimney of the yacht belonging to Hewes and Phillips, which breakage was caused by a defect in the iron of the boiler-plates."
